Metal Embossing is the art of achieving high and low relieves in special laminated metals. Vestiges of this art comes from ancient times, when domestic and ornamental objects were made of metals such as gold, silver and copper. These metals were laminated by heating and then hammering. Naturally, the tools back then were few and primitive. One of the most appreciated techniques of Metal Embossing is "Icon" making. Icons were used to represent a sacred image and the painted figures were covered with laminated metals that were embossed to create the movement of the robes, legs and arms and to reproduce the ornamental details of the crowns and backgrounds.

Mercart USA is a company committed to offer our customers the most complete and high-quality selection of tools and products to develop the unique, fine and centuries old art of Metal Embossing.
